A Success Story.

Buying an orange.

Think about buying an orange. You have to know you want one. Figure out how to get one. Get yourself to the store. Select the right one. And finally, but not easily, purchase it.

For someone who has had a head injury, this is a very complicated process. It can also be an extraordinary success.

At the six different community-based programs of ReMed Recovery Care Centers, this is the kind of success we strive for. Our therapists teach clients the practical skills they need while focusing on their individual strengths. For those who are striving for a more independent lifestyle or for those requiring a more structured living situation, we emphasize recovery and getting back to the basics of life.
